There is many ways to gain an advantage to Loot boxes, at the heart of all of them is to win the game. • You can become unfair and win easily without giving any chance to the other player. • Game does not have a pay2win loop. • In the solo mode, some of the best players can have more chances to obtain Loot boxes. Download the game and walk through the tutorial, and find your friends to play with, or even join the Discord. (DO NOT BUY THE HEROES, IT IS A SIMPLE FREE TO PLAY WITH PAY TO EARN GAME) The key is to not get locked out of the game. In the solo mode you will notice you have two different loot boxes, one called the "Ready Mode" and the other called the "Loot Box". You will notice that the Ready Mode loot boxes open and reward you when you win the game. Whereas the Loot Box provides one random drop per game, there is a chance you will receive loot boxes and others will not. The loot box costs 15,000 gold The best way to ensure you have a chance is to use most of your energy points or attack points. This will allow you to win before the game even starts. Loot boxes are destroyed when you use all of your points. You can try to win before the loot boxes are destroyed, but it will take you some time d41b202975

Powered by: Ra's Chess - Elder Scrolls Collectible Card Game Ra's Chess consists of two levels of game play: Adventure and Strategy. Adventure combines elements of strategy, PvP and boardgaming. Strategy pulls back and lets the end-game be decided by complex card draw. The end game is decided by cards in one or more hands, with each hand often having a different effect. You may have to draw your bad hand and discard it, saving a resource and gaining a minor tactical advantage, or draw your good hand and ambush your opponent. It is a very comprehensive game, but is certainly not "easy". It is a very old game, especially the card game, and has been around for a very long time. Want to know more? The Game Ra's Chess is a card based board game, using special Cards of Action, Event cards, and Deck Cards. Equipment includes an oversized King Piece, and two player chess pieces. All material is constructed of cardboard and painted. King Piece can be captured by the player holding it. Capturing is done by placing the Chess Piece and a card into the capture zone indicated by the King Piece. Each King Piece is worth five Cards of Action, and is worth 5 points if one of your Knights reaches this zone. Mathematically (hah), you may expend five cards to pick up the King Piece (you get 5 cards of action back), but this does not allow you to use the King Piece in future turns, which can allow a player to make more than 10 points from capturing the Piece. You can only flip and take a card from your hand while you are in possession of a queen. If you had a drop of the Queen of Aces and two knights, and the Queen is not in your hand, you have to take one of your Pieces (knights) to the Capturing zone to take the card (cannot empty your hand). You may discard either a king piece or queen piece, in order to get a new card. Each queen, king piece or bishop has its own discard ability. Once you've acquired a new card, you can call a battle using the proper cards from your deck. This turns out to be a crucial aspect of the game. The battles are a costly affair, with each battling level ruled by probability. The probability of winning and losing for each
