Gold-Catalyzed Synthesis of Quaternary Stereogenic Indium(III) Oxide: Isolation of Metastable In<sub>2</sub>O<sub>3</sub>. Indium oxide has a promising place in energy conversion and storage devices, but its robustness, low cost, and unique electronic properties are still far from being fully exploited. Herein, a facile gold-catalyzed synthesis of In<sub>2</sub>O<sub>3</sub> with an unprecedented stereochemistry is reported. This represents the first example of a metal-catalyzed formation of a stereogenic indium compound in the In(III) oxidation state. X-ray diffraction analysis of the resulting material shows it to be a metastable, layered structure with crystallographic chirality of the two trivalent cations and the anions. The resulting material was also found to retain its chirality after exposure to UV irradiation, but loses its crystallographic chirality. Q: Will the "Gamerscore" be available on Meta StackExchange? I'm curious to know if the "Gamerscore" will eventually be available on this Meta StackExchange site. A: No. It was simply displayed in review because the review engine wasn't publically available at that time. It is now up and visible on all sites, but that doesn't mean we'll ever display it anywhere else. The normal base of 1000 is all that is available to view. Credit George Walker IV for The New York Times CLEVELAND — For more than a decade, David S. Rose, 55, is president and chief executive of a real estate development firm, Rose Properties, and a member of the board of directors at FedEx, the package delivery company. ## What's New In Adobe Photoshop 2020 (version 21)?

Q: Pipe won't let me combine a parameter and the filename of a file I've got a Bash script that looks like this: `#!/bin/bash # Create a temporary file and copy it to the original file. cat temp.txt | while read line; do # Remove the line break and replace the space with an underscore. sed -i "s/ $line/ $line/g" "$1"; done; I want to copy the contents of the file temp.txt to the file $1 but instead I get this: /home/myuser/Documents/CopyOldChanges.sh: line 2: syntax error near unexpected token `newline' /home/myuser/Documents/CopyOldChanges.sh: line 2: `cat temp.txt | while read line' I can copy the file contents to my $1 file using cat temp.txt | cp $1 and then rm temp.txt, but I can't seem to get the pipe working. I've tried various combinations with getopts and printf, but I've gotten nowhere. What am I doing wrong? A: You need a | after the second read to tell it to continue on failure. The pipe will always fail unless you put some fail code there. #!/bin/bash # Create a temporary file and copy it to the original file. cat temp.txt | while read line; do # Remove the line break and replace the space with an underscore. sed -i "s/ $line/ $line/g" "$1"; done; Read more about "Failure" here. The goal of the proposed research is to understand how the deformation of an actin filament is coupled to the regulation of myosin ATPase activity, and to test if such coupling is regulated by a novel mechanism. The myosin family of actin-based motor proteins is responsible for much of the motion of living cells. A major challenge is to understand how the physical interactions of actin with myosin determine the magnitude and direction of the actin-myosin dependent motile forces that are necessary for locomotion and endocytosis. The family of proteins called troponins, which are intimately associated with muscle contraction in vivo, coordinate the activity of my`
